Dear Mr. Igiel:

We are writing on behalf of our client, Venture Global LNG, Inc. (the "Company"), in response to your letter of June 9, 2023 on behalf of David "Michael" Eberhardt ("Mr. Eberhardt"). Please direct all future communications regarding this matter to us.

We have reviewed your contentions regarding the Separation and General Release Agreement and the Non-Qualified Stock Option Agreement executed by the Company and Mr. Eberhardt in connection with his separation from employment. No reasonable reading of those documents can support the tortured interpretation offered in your letter. As an initial matter,

Finally, we note your demand for document preservation and a reservation of rights. As you know, those preservation obligations run both ways. The Company also reserves all of its rights, including its rights to assert available counterclaims. Mr. Eberhardt should likewise preserve all documents in his possession, custody or control that relate in any way to his former association with the Company, its officers, directors or affiliates. He also should preserve all communications between himself and any former or current employee, consultant, contractor, officer, or director of the Company through the present day. This includes all paper and electronic documents and communications, including any notes, emails, transcripts, recordings or text messages.
